The Copper Queen Store.

OIL HEATERS

As we write this a car of these goods is being unloaded. The recent cold snap has sent people hurrying after them and unless you come quickly—you who have been waiting for them—we are afraid you'll be disappointed again.

Christmas Time at the Grocery Store.

Just step in the door and you'll know it's the merry Christmas season by the way the Grocery store is decked out with greens and Christmas trees and holly.

It will remind you, too, of the needful preparation for the day of all the days of the year. All the things you can possibly need for the table are here—or will be here in ample time. It's not a minute too soon to place your order.

Here's a suggestive list:

- POULTRY:
Turkeys, geese, ducks, chickens, hens, etc.
- VEGETABLES:
Green peas, string beans, cauliflower, turnips, sweet potatoes, carrots, bell peppers, chili peppers, young onions, tomatoes, celery.
- HERBS:
Sage, thyme, mint, parsley.
- FRESH FRUITS:
Oranges, lemons, grape fruit, bananas, pomegranates, apples, pears, plums, peaches, strawberries.
- DRIED TABLE FRUIT:
Figs—Smyrna and Elme in boxes and mats, dates, prunes, raisins—Royal Buckingham Clusters, etc.
- NUTS:
Walnuts, almonds, pecans, filberts, hickories, brazils, coconuts.
- PRESERVED GINGER:
Canton, crystallized and in syrup.
- CHEESE:
Neufchatel, pineapple, roquefort, edam, swiss, full creamed American and others.
- COFFEES:
Copper Queen No. 1, Java and Mocha, Chase & Sanborn's, Club House—all high grade blends.
- WINES:
Dry and sweet, hocks, portwines, burgundies, ports, claret and champagne. Mineral waters, ginger ale.
- CIGARS:
Esquitos, Obsequios, Principas, General Arthur and La Intimidad. To a smoker these names mean much. By the way, a box of cigars—good cigars like these—would make a fine present for a man who smokes.

OLD NICK

wants to come to Bisbee.

SANTA CLAUSSVILLE, Iceland, Dec. 12, 1901.
MR. A. P. SKINNER, Main St., Bisbee Arizona,
DEAR SIR:—In looking for a location as a distributing point, for my visit to the dear people of Bisbee. I find your store most central and I take the liberty of asking permission to make my annual display in your window.

The articles I have concluded to present this year to your townspeople, consists of good warm Underclothing, Socks and Shoes, as well as a nice collection of stylish Hats, pretty Shirts, and some of the most fetching Neckwear I have ever seen. I have about concluded to wear one of the ties myself, instead of my fur coat, THEY ARE SO WARM.

I will bring several dozen dress gloves, silk lined, that make you feel like a real Prince.

You know I never used to wear suspenders, but this year I have such pretty silk ones that I couldn't resist the temptation to put a pair on, and do you know I actually feel young again. Did I tell you about the fancy hose I am wearing. My goodness, I am getting too giddy for anything. OH, BUT THEY ARE WARM ONES; and of course I had to don a pair of those sky blue Boston garters you told me about.

Now, Mr. Skinner, I know this is imposing somewhat upon your good nature, but as there is no other location in Bisbee that suits me, I earnestly hope you will grant my request, and I will try and see that you do not regret it.

Very sincerely yours,
SANTA CLAUS.

P. S.—I would like to arrive between the 15th and 20th if agreeable with you.
S. C.

Isaac Stoddard Gets the Plum.

Washington, December 16.—The President today sent to the senate the following appointments:

Arizona.—To be Secretary of the Territory, Isaac T. Stoddard of Yavapai county, who received a recess appointment last summer from President McKinley.

Texas.—To be collector of customs for the district of Paso del Norte, Patrick F. Garrett, of New Mexico.

Charges had been preferred against Stoddard, accusing him of misusing the government frank in sending private letters through the mail. Evidently Mr. Stoddard, who went to Washington recently, satisfied the President that there was nothing in the accusations. Major Jas. H. McClintock, of Phoenix, was applicant for the position of Secretary, and a general favorite in Arizona.

THE DISTRICT COURT

Begins Its Third Week at Tombstone

Andrew Griffin on Trial for Murder—The Grand Jury Expected to Complete Its Work Yesterday

TOMBSTONE, Dec. 16, 1901.

SATURDAY MORNING.

G. B. Wilcox, in attendance as a trial juror, was excused for the term because of the illness of his wife.

The case of Thomas Hudspeth was the first. The defendant was called upon to plead to an indictment charging him with an assault to commit murder. A plea of not guilty was entered and the case set for trial Thursday of this week. A. R. English attorney for the defendant.

Dolores Gallego, charged with assault to commit murder, pleaded not guilty and case set for trial on Wednesday. Attorney Goodbody for defense.

Jesus Egile, assault with deadly weapon, pleaded not guilty; case set for Wednesday. G. W. Swain for defendant.

Robert Winders, charged with robbery, pleaded not guilty; set for trial on Thursday. A. R. English for defendant. The father of this young man was old Bob Winders, well known to old residents of Tombstone and a familiar figure in Weatherford, Fort Worth and Dallas, Texas, in the '70's.

After the above formal proceedings the case of Andrew Griffin, charged with murder in the killing of John Powell in the Huachuca, was called. Allen R. English was entered as counsel for the prosecution. Mr. English tried to get the case continued till Monday. After a tedious examination of jurors the following jury was sworn to try the case: John Jolly, W. E. Bailey, Henry Ash, G. F. Hagler, I. S. Burnett, Dan Hoehs, H. E. Gardner, C. Heller, John Kelson, C. H. Holtz, R. A. Casada and William Allison.

The remaining trial jurors were excused till 9:30 a. m. Monday.

The first witness called was Peter Connor, who was the only eye witness to the affray between Andrew Griffin and John Powell, resulting in the shooting and killing of Powell. Connor testified that he had been living in and about the Huachuca for twenty-two years; that at the time the affray occurred, October 2d, he was camping with Griffin for a day or two; that he knew John Powell; that Powell had stopped over the preceding night at Griffin's camp; that in the morning, after Powell had caught up his horse and saddled him preparatory to leaving, he and Griffin became engaged in an altercation over some money matters; at the commencement of the altercation the two men were some twenty-five or thirty feet away from Griffin's tent; that in the course of the quarrel Powell had called Griffin a "son of a b—"; and placed his hand on his pistol, which was carried in a scabbard attached to a belt around his waist; that at this Griffin turned around and walked toward his tent, saying "I'll allow no one to call me that name."

Powell followed him, still keeping his hand on his gun. I (Connor) stepped toward him and asked him to stop, and when Griffin had gone into his tent Powell stopped when within about six feet of the tent door, still, however, keeping his hand on his gun. Almost immediately Griffin appeared in the door of his tent with a rifle in his hand and shot immediately, hitting Powell in the face. Powell sank down dead, never having spoken after he was shot. The shooting occurred about eight o'clock in the morning. I ordered Griffin under arrest and took charge of his rifle and also of the body of the deceased; the latter I took from his body. Connor then testified to the movements of Griffin and himself immediately after the shooting, saying they went to Todd's ranch, but not together, and that he was unarmed when he went there; that at that time both Griffin and himself were sober although they had been drinking freely the day previous; positive we were sober, because we had drank all the whisky in camp the night before and had no chance to get any in the morning.

Dr. John E. Bacon, county physician, in his official and professional capacity, had made an examination and partial autopsy of the body of John Powell four or five days after his death. Death resulted from a gunshot wound, the ball having entered just below the right nostril and coming out the back of the head about four inches behind the right ear. No evidence of other external injury apparent.

At the conclusion of the evidence of Dr. Bacon Sidney Johnson, the boy convicted on Friday of robbery in connection with the hold-up at the Big Adobe saloon in Naco, was brought into court, and after a plea for clemency had been made to the court by his counsel, O. Gibson, the court sentenced Johnson to imprisonment for five years in the territorial prison at Yuma, being the minimum punishment.

Cole Powell, brother of deceased, was examined. "John Powell was my brother. He was 26 or 27 years old at the time of his death; born in Texas in '74; had been in Arizona about three years; had been keeping saloon at Expended Reef mine for about a month when he was killed; had been a "cow puncher;" was as quick at getting a gun as anybody." This was generally known among cowboys.

Clay Astor was put on the stand, but upon objection by attorney, his testimony was ruled out.

Mrs. Elizabeth Todd testified that her home was on a ranch, situated three or four hundred yards from Griffin's camp; that she was at home on the morning of October 2d; knew both Griffin and Connor; they came to my house together on the morning of October 2d; Griffin was unarmed, Connor had a pistol in one hand and a rifle in the other. They appeared to have been drinking, but Connor the most talkative; Griffin said he had killed a man in self defense; if he had not killed him he would have killed himself. This was about nine o'clock in the morning; Griffin said he was sorry, but he was not going to stand there and be shot. Connor remarked, "I can prove you did it in self defense."

J. E. Tomlinson, carpenter, now employed in Bisbee, was at Todd's ranch on October 2d. He was examined at length; beyond corroborating the testimony of Mrs. Todd as to Griffin and Connor coming there together and Connor carrying a rifle and pistol, his testimony contained no special feature.

Adjournment was ordered till 9:30 a. m. Monday, the jurors being remanded to the custody of two bailiffs.

At 9:35 court was re-opened to receive a partial report from the grand jury. The grand jury had just filed in when Bailiff Johnson appeared at the door and announced that the residence of Clerk Emanuel was on fire. The clerk was hastily excused and upon a second announcement that the house was burning down rapidly the court was more hastily adjourned, the court remarking as he quitted the bench, "my valise and clothing are down there."

MONDAY MORNING.

The partial report of the grand jury was made this morning. Indictments were reported against George Shott, for forgery. In March last year he forged the name of Lon Short to a draft on Los Angeles for $200, upon which he secured the money from Soto Bros. & Renaud. Indictment was also found against Jesus Bringas, for burglary charged to have been committed in Tombstone.

On Saturday, in chambers, the court had given a hearing to the application of J. B. Cabaney for a writ of habeas corpus. Cabaney is in jail at Tucson under commitment by Notary Pablo Tussing, before whom Cabaney had been summoned to give evidence in a case pending over some mining claims in the Silver Bell district. Cabaney refused to testify and the notary committed him for contempt. A writ was ordered issued to the sheriff of Pima county and returnable today before the District court of Cochise county.

The case against Andrew Griffin was resumed and promises to last all day, the defendant being on the stand in his own behalf at the time for closing the mail.

The grand jury expect to finish their labors today, but it is by no means certain they will be able to do so.

GRAND JURY REPORT.

A Caustic Document Returned After a Long Session.

Tombstone, Ariz., Dec. 16.—The grand jury made its final report today, after having been in session two weeks. The report scores the jail management at Tombstone and Bisbee. The hospital management was commended. The report also says that illegal and erroneous claims have been allowed by the county. Starr Williams is censured for gambling and misappropriating county funds, but no indictment was found. The Griffin jury is out.

When asked to give his side of the case by a REVIEW reporter last night, S. K. Williams said: "Cochise county owes me in the neighborhood of $1,500 for six months services, and on the other hand I owe the county about $50. Mr. Williams further said that he has receipts in his possession to show that he has paid over all cash received by him up to and including the first of November 1901, the last payment being $303.95, and that he challenged the grand jury of Cochise county or any individual in it to sustain any such charge, and that he would give $100 to any citizen or taxpayer who can substantiate any such charge. I feel that I have not been treated right by the grand jury, and if I were guilty of this charge why didn't they indict me instead of making ridiculous remarks, such as would emanate only from the minds of children. When I was in Tombstone I was shown a letter by the foreman of the grand jury, a letter written by M. J. Brown, of Bisbee, which had his signature attached, stating that I had received cash fines from parties in Bisbee fined in my court, who had never paid a fine. There were also charges made against me by one C. T. Clark, a would-be attorney who was committed for contempt in my court."

Col. W. C. Greene Brings Libel Suit

The Tucson Citizen says: Suit has been instituted in the district court by Col. William C. Greene against the Star Publishing company and L. C. Hughes for libel and the damages set at $50,000.

The plaintiff alleges that he is a resident of Cochise, and that at the time of the commission of the grievances complained of he was president of the Greene Consolidated Copper company and a large stockholder in said company, and as such president had general charge of the financial affairs and business of the said Greene Consolidated Copper company, which owns large mines of great value in the state of Sonora, republic of Mexico, and was at the time engaged in the operation of the said mines and in the construction of a railroad to be operated by and in connection with the said Greene Consolidated Copper company, and also in the construction of large smelters and other machinery for the operation of the said mines and the ore thereof. That plaintiff in the prosecution of his business had and has need of large and extensive credit; and that at all the times mentioned the plaintiff was of good name and business credit.

That the defendant, the Star Publishing company, on the 26th of November, 1901, did maliciously and with intent to injure the credit and the good name of the plaintiff, published concerning him a certain article containing false and defamatory matter as follows: "The appellate division has just held in the case of Steine vs. Greene that where a West Virginia corporation has its principal place of business in New York city, the stock in the company belonging to the non-resident stockholder can be attached in a suit in New York courts, by serving the statutory notice upon the officers of the company at their residence. This decision seems to be satisfactory to the ordinary business practice."

The action was brought and attachment levied upon Greene's stock in the Greene Consolidated Copper company. It is this attachment that has now been sustained by the appellate division.

By means of this publication the plaintiff was injured in his reputation and in his business to the amount of $50,000.

Smith & Ives are the attorneys for the plaintiff.

Congratulations For Admiral Schley.

Washington, December 16.—Thousands of letters are pouring in upon Admiral Schley, and hundreds of telegrams from all over the United States, congratulating and expressing confidence in him. Being a task of magnitude to answer all these letters and telegrams, personally, he issued a general note of appreciation and heartfelt thanks. Schley's counsel today held a conference and decided to ask Secretary Long to withhold approval of findings of court until objections can be filed. This communication was sent to Long, who this evening said he would grant request.

Thanks of Congress Proposed for Schley

Washington, Dec. 16.—This morning Senator Jones of Arkansas offered a resolution declaring that the thanks of congress and the American people is hereby tendered to Admiral Schley and the officers under his command for distinguished conduct in fighting the enemy. The resolution requests the President to communicate to Admiral Schley and the officers under him this declaration of congress. The senate referred the resolution to the naval committee without debate.

The senate then passed Vest's resolution providing for a committee to look into the question of anarchy.

Lawyer Shot in Silver City.

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 16.—Word from Silver City, New Mexico, says that on Saturday S. Heflin was shot by John Childers, a gambler and all-round bad man. Heflin was game, and proved the man he was considered to be. He was shot three times. He was resting easy this morning. Childers was injured. He was arrested. There is much feeling. J. S. Fielder, a Silver City lawyer, who has just removed to El Paso, says:

"Mr. Heflin is an attorney and one of the best men on earth and thoroughly brave. Childers is a 'bad man,' or a would-be 'bad man' and especially when drinking."

Lake Shore Accident.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 16.—This morning a horrible accident happened on the Lake Shore train, three miles from this city. A heavy fog prevailed when a crowd of men were walking along the track to work. They did not hear the Lake Shore express as it came dashing along, and it ground three of the men into mince meat, two others being seriously hurt.

Phoenix Gets Sugar Factory

Phoenix, A. T., Dec. 16.—Plans were perfected today for the securing of the location of the great beet sugar factory which gives promise of opening to the southwest an industry which will revolutionize methods in vogue in agricultural districts.

Coldest on Record

Memphis, Dec. 16.—Bitter cold weather prevails here. The thermometer this morning was five degrees above zero. The same conditions prevail in Alabama, Georgia and the Carolinas. It is the coldest December on record.

A Very Sick Senator

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 16.—United States Senator Sewall is very low. His family has been summoned to his bedside, as it is thought he cannot live till morning.

Treaty Passed.

Washington, Dec. 16.—The Hay-Pauncefote treaty passed the senate at five this evening; the vote stood 44 to 6.

Commended by Ministers.

There was the fish pond where the fishermen were certain of a good haul. Miss Burr and Miss Huber baited the hooks.

Dr. Sweet was there, here and everywhere, intent that the first sight should be an enjoyable evening for those present.

The program was especially entertaining. The recitation by Mr. Morrow and the solo "Arizona, the Sun Kissed Land," by Miss Nettie Hughes, receiving hearty encores.

The bazaar continues tonight and tomorrow night.

THE DIAMOND ROBBERS

Make Their Re-appearance in Bisbee, but Disappear Again.

After a several days wait in hiding in or near Bisbee, a part of the gang who robbed A. W. Crawford of two valises of diamond and jewelry, came back Sunday morning between one and two o'clock and entered the house they had been using since they first came to Bisbee and asked the landlady who had been in their room and disturbed their effects. The landlady called to a young man rooming next door and the burglars made a hasty exit from the premises. Officers were notified and again searched the room, and between two mattresses they found a number of giant caps and fuse, several skeleton keys and a file. They had evidently been making preparations and intended to help their confederates escape from the jail here and then quit the country.

From information in their possession the officers are satisfied that the men who did this job are part of a gang of noted crooks on their way west and stopped off to take in a few of the mining camps as they passed through. On one of the men was found a book giving the names and locations of the different postoffices in the United States, and these men are very likely wanted by the government secret service officers, and that good size rewards are out for their capture. If the officers of Bisbee, or nearby towns, are successful in landing this gang of crooks it will put a big feather in their caps and a neat sum of money in their pockets.

Episcopal Bazaar.

Last evening the Episcopal Bazaar, under the management of St. John's Guild, was opened in the Bisbee Opera house with a large attendance and a splendid programme.

The interior presented a beautiful scene with decorated booths ranging down the long decorated hall, tastefully decorated and presided over by charming young ladies and stately matrons. The refreshment booth was to the right of the entrance, decorated in pink and white with clusters of California flowers. Within tables had been set, which were liberally patronized. Mrs. Tomlinson presided.

The smoking room was a Turkish affair with divans, sofas and reclining chairs. Dr. Willard welcomed the visitor here.

The doll booth was in white and evergreens. Mrs. S. K. Williams presided.

At the Woman's Exchange booth everything for the housewife was on sale with Mrs. Marie Smith in charge.

The handkerchief booth presented a contrast in white and green. Hundreds of handkerchiefs were disposed of here by Mrs. F. A. Sweet and Mrs. Webb.

With soda, ice cream and candy the visitor was served by Miss Hughes and Mrs. Haight.

The booth presided over by Mrs. S. W. Clawson deserves especial mention. It was decorated in red and white crepe paper and in the interior was displayed sofa pillows and fancy work. Beautiful flowers were offered in an attractive booth trimmed up in pure white with Miss Schmidt and Mrs. Gurke as salesladies.

There was the fish pond where the fishermen were certain of a good haul. Miss Burr and Miss Huber baited the hooks.

Dr. Sweet was there, here and everywhere, intent that the first sight should be an enjoyable evening for those present.

The program was especially entertaining. The recitation by Mr. Morrow and the solo "Arizona, the Sun Kissed Land," by Miss Nettie Hughes, receiving hearty encores.

The bazaar continues tonight and tomorrow night.
